NEW PUBLICATIONS. PALL MALL MAGAZINE

DECEMBER (XMAS.) NUMBER. NOW READY.
Price, 25 cents; $3 a year.
The CHRISTMAS NUMBER maintains the usual literary and pictorial sumptuousness which marks the PALL MALL MAGAZINE, and quite upholds its splendid reputation. The principal contributions are:

Silver "Nefs." (Personally revised by H. R. H. THE DUKE OF SAXE-COBURG-GOTHA.) Is an account descriptive of the famous quaint collection of Silver Ships of the 16th and 17th centuries, preserved at Clarence House, St. James's. The article has been written and illustrated with the sanction and under the direction of His Royal Highness.

The Oueen of Cities (in colors) Is the title of an article by FREDERICK WHYTE upon Constantinople, a city upon which all the world now gaz's with absorbing interest. The life in the city is vividly described, and the movements of the surging crowds thronging its bazaars are portrayed by a series of brilliant illustrations full of the color characterizing the Near East.

St. Ives. By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON, continues the second portion of the stirring narrative of the Adventures of a French Prisoner in England, and is marked with all the author's brilliance of style and literary finish. Rarely has a story been so exquisitely illustrated as "St. Ives" in the pages of any magazine.

Angels Unawares.

A story of great pathos, by MARION ELLISTON of a heralding angel's visit to earth on Christman Eve, and of its consequent blessings. Mathurin: a Sinner of Pontiac.

A touching story of the Province of Quebec in the last century, by GILBERT PARKER. Letters from Paris during the French Revolution. By the first DUCHESS OF SUTHERLAND, is an important contribution to the pages of European History. The letters are now for the first time published, and have been edited by LORD RONALD GOWER.
